Mayor Bernard Carvalho gives us an update.

Bernard Carvalho is going into the beginning of his first full term as Mayor of Kauai. He is still feeling good about the accomplishments of the first two years. He admits he can't solve all of the problems at the same time but feels like we have made progress in the past two years. He said that some of the things that he has been proud of is surrounding himself with good people who understand Aloha and have good hearts. He is also happy that anyone can go to the web site and know what is going on. Transparency in government has been a long standing goal. Some of the problems that have his attention right now are solving our trash problems and doing a better job of re-cycling. He also wants to improve the bus service to encourage more riders and appreciates all the help he can get to put shelters at every stop.

Former members Bob and Chris Blower return to the scene of the crime. They prefer to think of it as just missing a lot of meetings.

Mike Dyer gave a big thank you to the highway clean up volunteers

Branch Lotspeich was happy to see his guest and old friend Mike Chen

Mike Dyer gave us a report on Jeff Goodman and said he was doing well after a liver transplant surgery

Robin Thompson was happy that Bob Blower was not the Sgt. at arms. He cost her a lot of money in fines.

Guests, Mayor Bernard Carvalho and his wife Regina enjoyed the meeting

Tom Horn said the Community Garden was tilled and planted.

Larry Wharton was happy Jeff Goodman is recovering so quickly.

Tony Motta reminded everyone to bring a check or cash to pay for the In and Out Party next Sunday. George Corrigan is OUT and Bob Capwell is IN.

Jonathan McRoberts said he just came back from an Old Peoples Liars Club meeting in Kennebunkport, Maine, also known as a class reunion.

Corrigan's Corner

Signs Technology Took Over Your Life

1. Your stationery is more cluttered than Warren Beatty's address book. The letterhead lists a fax number, e-mail addresses for two on-line services, and your Internet address, which spreads across the breadth of the letterhead and continues to the back. In essence, you have conceded that the first page of any letter you write is letterhead.
2. You have never sat through an entire movie without having at least one device on your body beep or buzz.
3. You need to fill out a form that must be typewritten, but you can't because there isn't one typewriter in your house, only computers with laser printers.
4. You think of the gadgets in your office as "friends," but you forget to send your father a birthday card.
5. You disdain people who use low baud rates.
6. When you go into a computer store, you eavesdrop on a salesperson talking with customers, and you butt in to correct him and spend the next twenty minutes answering the customers' questions, while the salesperson stands by silently, nodding his head.
7. You know Bill Gates' e-mail address, but you have to look up your own social security number.
8. You sign Christmas cards by putting :- ) next to your signature.
9. Off the top of your head, you can think of nineteen keystroke symbols that are far more clever than :- ).
10. You back up your data every day.
11. You know more about the computer than about all of your friends.
12. You think jokes about being unable to program a VCR are stupid.
13. On vacation, you are reading a computer manual and turning the pages faster than everyone else who is reading John Grisham novels.
